

Does my child have to participate in the programs and performances?

While we recognize that many children are not born performers, we encourage all students to participate in our annual programs in some way. They may choose to take an elective course in art so that their participation is limited to the art exhibit, yet they are still participating in some way. We desire that the children see ALL of the arts as important and not just the performing arts. For that reason, in addition to the dramatic presentation, most schools offer an art exhibit, a project night and displays of other non-performing elective options.
